Local News.

FRANK LORD is down from Banner.

JOHN EMERY was up the other day from the Bend with a band of horses.

COUNTY TREASURER SMITH went on a riding trip to Boise last week.

POTATOES are selling at one cent per pound in Boise.

J. B. EMERY's three teams, of six horses each, pulled out the other day loaded with hides.

THE DEMOCRAT says there are but few rabbits in Boise valley, and that the "rabbit ear fund" was the means of thinning them out.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK of Boise City will soon have a branch bank at Baileyville, and F. W. Kroeber is to take charge of it.

SHADE ORCHARD returned the other day from Emmettsville, where he has been engaged in rounding up cattle for McDevitt. Shade says he got quite a sufficiency of the driving business.

Hon. BEN WILSON and wife passed through here Sunday on their way to Bonerville. They are from San Francisco. Ben came up to look after his mining interests in this county.

DAVE ADAMS, of the Avalanche, arrived here on Sunday, on business. He dropped around to the WORLD office, and had a sociable chat. He took the stage yesterday for home.

J. B. EMERY has just received a fine stock of the largest and finest potatoes ever brought to the Basin. They were raised by Mr. Samuel Johnson five miles above Boise City, near Clawson's toll gate.

BISHOP TUTTLE and Rev. F. W. Crook will be here on Thursday, June 9th, and will hold services Sunday June 12th, morning and evening. Placerville, Tuesday, 14th, at 8 P. M. Emmettsville, Thursday, 16th, 8 P. M.; Boise City, 19th, morning and evening.

THE DEMOCRAT says, T. W. Randall, who went out to establish by survey, the boundary line between Owyhee and Cassia counties, returned the other day. After the work was done Mr. Randall was shown the grave of the murdered George Myers, which proved to be in Owyhee county, about five hundred yards from the line of division between Owyhee and Cassia.

ALBERT OSTNER and L. H. McIrvin a few days ago quarreled about a mill site located by McIrvin on a ranch bought by Ostner near Bellevue. After a few words Ostner struck McIrvin, who drew his revolver and shot at the former, missing him. The next morning, as McIrvin was going to his location Ostner "turned loose" at him with a double-barreled shot-gun, one shot taking effect above the right temple. He ranged around the skull three or four inches, and did not make a very serious wound.

WM. BYRON Sheriff of Ada county, arrived here yesterday on the hunt of Henry McDonald, the murderer of George Myers, and went on, by stage, across the Basin. He escaped between eight and nine o'clock on the evening of the 14th, and worked his way out by beating an iron rod he took from the stove, and burning the wood on each side of the staple fastening the inside door. This enabled him to make his way to the outside door. This door, which has a padlock, was not locked, so he experienced but little difficulty in getting outside of the walls of the jail. Jerry Plume, the warden, was out in town when McDonald made his escape. He returned between eight and nine o'clock, and after locking the outside door, which he always fastened just before going to bed, he retired, and it was not until next morning that he found "the bird" had flown. A man on horseback supposed to be McDonald, was seen to pass into the hills back of the fort between eight and nine o'clock on the evening of his escape. The least that can be said of the affair is that the escape of this foulest of murderers, was the result of unpardonable carelessness on the part of the warden. The following reward is offered for the capture of McDonald; The Governor of the Territory will pay $500 and the Sheriff of Ada county $300 reward for the capture and return, dead or alive, to the county jail in Boise City, of Henry McDonald, the murderer of George Myers. He made his escape on the evening of the 14, 1881. He is six feet high, brown hair, dark eyes, weight 175 pounds, age 30 years; wore striped pants and dark woolen shirt.

JOHN BROWN, President of the Elmirra company, arrived here Sunday. J. L. Brown, the newly elected Superintendent, stopped at Shaw's Mountain, and will be here to-day. They will go up to Banner to-morrow to commence operations. They have not yet decided when the mill will be started up, as they will not determine until after taking a review of the mine, what line of work will be pursued. The property, which was bonded to G. W. Crafts and L. G. Abbott last winter, was not sold when they left, but a sale will probably be made before long. Col. John Brown saw Mr. Crafts at Ogden. He said he was on his way to Bonanza and would go via Wood river. Mr. Brown says the Wood river excitement extends as far as the Missouri, and is at fever heat. There is an enormous amount of freight at Kelton, all for the Wood river country. The forwarding houses of that place have all they can do, and a line of teams are continually moving to and from the railroad.

LAST Saturday's Avalanche gives an account of an immensely rich strike recently made in the Owyhee Treasury mine, which was bonded a short time ago by Stevenson & Massey. J. N. Trask cast a bar of bullion from forty pounds of ore taken from the stringer, and worked in a hand-mortar, the assay showing $1,839 20 per ton, or $45 98 per pound. Outside the rich ore, the vein is from three to six feet in width, the ore of which, it is estimated, will mill from $40 to $50 per ton.

Goods for any point in Idaho, marked care of T. & Co., Kelton, will be promptly forwarded. The handling of ores is made a speciality. This firm has the best reputation of any in Kelton for promptness in shipping all goods entrusted to them.

A VERY pleasant social party was given by Mrs. Dryde McClintock last Friday evening. There was quite a large gathering, and all enjoyed themselves immensely.

U. S. MARSHAL Chase and wife left Boise City the other day for a visit to the States.

Two four-mule teams arrived yesterday from Grand Ronde with freight for this place.

BACON is retailing here at 24 cents.

DISTRICT COURT will convene at Silver City on the 23d.

MRS. FRANK MILLER and littledaughter, Lena, went down to Boise yesterday.

HON. E. J. CURTIS has organized a wealthy company in New York City to operate in the Wood river country. So says the Democrat.

The first number of the Wood river News published at Bellevue, has made its appearance. It is brim full of local news, and is ably edited. It is a twenty-four column weekly.

THE REPUBLICAN says the skin of the white deer that was killed in the hills above Boise City last winter by J. W. Wilhoit, has been stuffed and can now be seen at Jack Elliott's saloon.

MRS. GEO. W. RICHARDS received a letter yesterday from her husband, who is at Bellevue. He is greatly taken with the Wood river country. He says Dryde McClintock will be in in a few days after his family.

BAKLE and Fehner, lessees of the Star Ranch track, will give races on that course, commencing on July 4th and continuing four days. We have received the advertisement, but too late for this issue. It will appear in our next.

HENRY GOTTSCH came down from Banner Sunday and returned yesterday. Henry's band of beef cattle will be driven to Banner from the Payette in a few days. He has been supplying Banner with beef for several years and intends to continue on in his old business.

ALL the wooden buildings in Boise City, between Brodbent's jewelry store and Jacobs' brick, were consumed by fire yesterday morning. The fire was not extinguished when the stage left at 3 o'clock, but was under control. It was with great effort that the Overland Hotel was saved. The fire originated in the Palace Restaurant. What the loss was, or how many buildings were burned, we did not learn.

Our typographical friend, Shade Orchard, will soon take a position behind the bar at the Miners' Brewery. Shade says "small pica men" needn't expect to "fill their cases" from "long primer" glasses. He will "set 'em up"—the glasses—in proportion to the "inside measure" of patrons. Any one pining" the furniture will be "squabbled," forthwith, notwithstanding he may have his "case full." So if you don't want your "form upset," you will have to show a "clean proof" when Shade is around.

Mark Twain says the only introduction to a literary audience that he ever had that seemed to him the right words in the right place—a real inspiration—was as follows: "Ladies and gentlemen, I shall not waste any unnecessary time in the introduction. I don't know anything about this man; at least, I only know two things about him—one is that he has never been in the penitentiary, and the other, I don't see why."

At a very dignified meeting of physicians the question, "Why does hanging kill a man?" was discussed in all its phases. The most learned and technical phraseology was used to describe the pressure of the hemp on the esophagus, but one more learned than the rest declared that the real reason was that the rope was not long enough to allow the poor fellow's feet to touch the ground.

When a woman absently lays her hand in yours, and then, remembering, suddenly pulls it home, and looking down the two slopes of her nose executes a sunset on each cheek, it is time for you to take your hat and go home, or you may soon find her dressmaker's bills coming to your address.

Repentance.
The Galveston News says that a recent Saturday night, some sinner stole two chickens from the coop of Rev. Amidab Bledsoe, of the Galveston Colored Blue light Tabernacle, and the next day the Reverend gentleman arose and preached a most powerful sermon against the sin of stealing chickens and promised everlasting torment to the man who stole his two chickens. Early Monday morning Jim Webster called at the pastor's residence with a scared face and some poultry. He said: "Parson Bledsoe, dat ar sermon 'most scared me to def. I couldn't sleep a wink, so I fotched yer chickens back." I don't keer for all de fowls, Jeems, but hit pleases me mightily to know dat I am an 'umble instrument in de hans ob de Almighty to bring sinners ter repentance and ter cause dem ter lead a new life. But look heah, Jeems, dese chickens ain't de same ones ye stole from me. "I knows it," said Jim, "Your chickens am done eat up, but yer sermon opened my eyes to de sinfulness ob steal. ing your chickens, an' I felt so bad about it dat de fust t'ing I did when church was out was to climb ober into Kurnel Jones' yard an' cabbage two ob his fattest pullets to make good de chickens yer missed."

A MESMERIST'S TRICK—The French Courts have allowed themselves to be humbugged by the mesmerizers when they admit as proof of somnambulism the evidence of a needle being thrust into the nape of a man's neck without his feeling it. Many years ago I went to a public mesmeric seance at Brighton. The mesmerizer thrust needles into the foreheads and arms of a number of girls who sat with him on a platform, and whom he had mesmerized. I thought that I recognized the practitioner, and on speaking to him after the seance I found that he had been a butler in the family of a relation of mine. He showed me how to insert a needle into anyone without pain. Nothing is more easy. It has only to be done very slowly. Proceeding from lecture to practice he inserted into my forehead two or three needles without my feeling anything beyond a slight prick.—[London Truth.

A few nights ago a Galveston lawyer heard somebody calling "Police!" in the street in front of his office. He rushed down into the street and found a man sitting on the doorstep, calling for the police. "What's the matter? Anybody hurt?" "I am drunk and want a policeman to take me home. Police!" "Can't you go home yourself?" "No, I want a policeman to take me home in a hand-cart. I'm drunk. Police." Where is your home?" "In Chicago. Police!" The police came at last and took him along three blocks nearer Chicago than he was at first.—[Sweet's Siftings.

A wicked fellow in the cross timbers near Denton, Texas, a few days ago, was desperately sick and lying at death's door, when he was called upon by a minister, who urged him, in view of his early departure from the shores of time, to "wrestle with the devil." The sick man called attention to his emaciated limbs and unstrung muscles, and said: "Do I look like raslin' with the devil? Why, he'd trip me into hell the first pass!"

The cost of a kiss is variable according to locality. In a Brooklyn church it isn't rated high either as an offense against good morals or its commercial value, but in the Baltimore postoffice it costs $5,000 to take a kiss without the lady's consent. Miss Mary A. Murray has just recovered $5,000 from Postmaster Tyler for an attempt to kiss her while employed in his office.

A man supposed to be deranged passed down the rapid current of the Des Moines river astride a log, during a freshet, keeping an upright position by means of an oar. He shouted to the spectators that he was bound for New Orleans, and hadn't time to stop.
